Review of decisions of the Registrar

or it may be referred by him to ►the Board◄ for review.

(2) Any decision given on a review under this regulation, and any refusal to review a decision under this regulation, shall be subject to appeal in like manner as any original decision, and the provisions of this Part of these regulations shall, subject to the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the review of a decision as they apply to the original determination of a question.

PART V CERTIFICATES

Issue, variation, cancellation and surrender of certificates

14.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this regulation, on a decision that any employment should be treated, either generally or in relation to any description of persons, as a non-participating employment, becoming effective, the Registrar shall issue to the employer concerned a certificate to that effect.

(2) The certificate shall specify the employments which are to be treated, generally or in relation to any description of persons specified in the certificate, as non-participating employments and the date from which the certificate is to have effect in relation to each such employment; and the certificate shall be sent to the employer and shall be retained by him so long as it remains effective.

(3) Any such certificate may be cancelled or varied by the Registrar where he has reasons to suppose that any employment to which it relates ought not to be treated as a non-participating employment in accordance with the certificate.

Provided that—

- (a) no such cancellation or variation shall have effect, except with the employer's consent, unless the Registrar has served written notice on the employer requiring him to show cause to the satisfaction of the Registrar why the certificate ought not to be so varied or cancelled, and he has not done so within one month of service of the notice, or such further period as the Registrar may allow;

- (b) any question arising in relation to the cancellation or variation of a certificate under this paragraph shall be disposed of in accordance with Part IV of these regulations as if it had arisen on an election or revocation of an election made by the employer.

(5) The Registrar, if he thinks fit, may defer the issue or variation of a certificate to enable the election to be further considered in the light of any representations made by persons to whom notice of the election is required by regulation 3 of these regulations to be given or by organisations representing any such persons.

Para. (6) substituted by reg. 6 of S.I. 1965/40 as from 25.1.65.

(6) ►A certificate or the variation, cancellation or surrender of a certificate shall have effect from the date specified by the Registrar after consultation with the employer, being either—such date, being the first day of any contribution week, as the Registrar may in his discretion determine, but, in any case where notices under regulation 3 were required to be given, not earlier than the first day of any contribution week after the week in which the notices expired:

Provided that—

- (a) consultation with the employer shall not be required where the certificate is cancelled or varied under paragraph (3) of this regulation, but if the Registrar determines a date earlier than the first day of the contribution week following that in which it is so cancelled or varied the employer's consent shall be required to any date so determined; and
- (b) the variation of a certificate for the purpose of rectifying an error in the description of persons specified therein may, at the discretion of the Registrar, have effect from the date specified by the employer in the notices required to be given by regulation 3 of these regulations or such later date as the Registrar may determine, being in any case the first day of any contribution week, but not earlier than the date on which the certificate including the error first had effect.

(7) On receipt of a notice to show cause why a certificate should not be cancelled or varied, served on him by the Registrar under paragraph (3) of this regulation, or on the issue, variation, cancellation or surrender of any certificate becoming effective, the employer shall forthwith give notice containing particulars of any superannuation scheme or schemes concerned and the employments and, where appropriate, description of persons affected thereby to the persons to whom and in the manner in which notice of an intention to elect or revoke an election is required to be given under the provisions of regulation 3 of these regulations.

(8) Where, by reason of variation, cancellation or surrender, a certificate has ceased to have effect, the employer, if he has not already done so, shall at the request of the Registrar return the certificate to him; and, in the case of variation, a fresh certificate shall be issued to the employer in accordance with the terms of the variation, Eor, at the discretion of the Registrar, in the case of variation consequent upon the National Insurance Act 1963, the original certificate shall be endorsed to show the terms of the variation and the date from which it is to have effect, and shall be re-issued to the employeF.

Words added by reg. 12 of S.I. 1963/676 as from 6.4.63.

Further information and change of circumstances

15.—(1) An employer to whom a certificate has been issued shall, in such manner and at such times as the Registrar may determine, furnish to the Registrar such reports, accounts and other documents relating to any superannuation scheme in respect of the employment to which the certificate relates and such information affecting or which may affect the validity of the certificate as the Registrar may reasonably require and, in particular, shall notify the Registrar of any such change of circumstances affecting the scheme as may have been required by him to be notified, as soon as practicable after its occurrence, and shall give to the Registrar one month's notice in writing of any change proposed in the rules relating to the scheme or in the administration of any trust under which benefits are liable to be paid:

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These Regulations provide in Part I for the appointment of a Registrar and deputy Registrars for the purpose of the issue to employers of certificates specifying employments which are to be treated as non-participating employments for the purposes of Part II of the National Insurance Act 1959 and the variation, cancellation and surrender of such certificates and for the purpose of determining questions arising thereon as to whether any employment is to be treated as a non-participating employment. Part II of the Regulations prescribes the manner in which elections and revocations of elections are to be made by employers seeking the issue, cancellation or variation of a certificate. Part III provides for questions as to whether or for what period of employment is, under any certificate, to be treated as non-participating in relation to any person, to be referred to the Registrar by the Minister and empowers the Registrar to appoint a person to hold an inquiry before determining such a question. Part IV prescribes the manner in which questions are to be determined by the Registrar and provides for appeals from his decisions to lie to the Adjudicator to whom the Registrar may also refer a question instead of determining it himself. This Part also provides for review by the Registrar of decisions on questions referred to him by the Minister under Part III. The procedure for the issue, variation and cancellation of certificates by the Registrar is prescribed in Part V which also includes matters connected therewith.

The preliminary draft of these Regulations was submitted to the National Insurance Advisory Committee in accordance with section 77 of the National Insurance Act 1946, and their report thereon, dated the 27th October 1959, is contained in the House of Commons Paper No. 20 (Session 1959–60) published by Her Majesty's Stationery Office.
